Ignorant of the real services the position last year.

Ignorant of the real services the position emanded of you, and act content to settle down to neonspicuou usefulness, your inordinate desire to attract attention ledtic down is a neonspicuou usefulness, our inordinate desire to attre et attention led you to make in your first report a inalignant and baseless attack apon your predecessor. Colonel Dudley, a brave and discrete sold er, who left one of his legs at Gettysburg, whose services to the country in civil life have been egaal to those rendered in the field, and whose solidary remaining shoe, in my judgment and that of all the seldiers of my acquaintance, you were never worthy to untie. There would perhaps be no shorter nor more ust/way to praise the predecessor you have libeled, than to say he differs in all respects from yourself.

The success you have so far met with in your chivalrous task of destroying the official reputation of a wounded brother officer is well known to the country; and while a common soldier in private life like, myself could not aspire to be honored by any share of your original attention, it seems from your letter, my small claims to honor and, respectability are to be incidentally and, basually crushed by you in the and to make the production of the product the less be made.

I believe no American soldier of your rank has learned better than you bt th the pecualary and political value of wounds. Before your sension of $100 per month had been votes you by Congress I sm told you had a ready acquired that rare trait of yours of always extending, in greeting, your wounds, left hand. Should you eyer challenge me to a comparison of sores with you, I beg you to remember in "charity," if not in "fratersity and loyalty," that my disfigurement from rebel lead is not so conveniently located for purposes of exhibition as your own.

Colonel Dudley needs no help from me in meeting your charge that he was guilty while in office of granting pontions for political reasons. It may be well to re-mark in passing, however, that your en-

The call for the Democratic State Conditions on the Linder of the Containing the genuine ring. If our Republican the genuine ring. If our Republican the genuine ring. If our Republican the genuine ring and the containing the genuine ring. The "dissension" in that call, we trust they will make the most of it. The "dissension" had been a Penecratic view of the season of the Linder of the publican ranks.—Boston Globe.

It is globe is right in one particular, and but one. The above-maned call has the genuine Democratic ring 5 that is, it avoids namerous questions that are tranght with deep interest to the people and deals with others after the manner of the demagogue finble attack Mr. Fifer has written an with England, and should it result in open letter in which Gen. Black is soundly arousing Secretary Bayard to a comprescored.
